

Can i:draw Help:

If you are a Designer, Architect, Developer or Trades Person, i:draw can help you. If you are a Shop Owner, Small Business, or Homeowner, i:draw can help you. Basically if you need any type of CAD drawing produced then i:draw can help.

From layout plans to detailed construction drawings, full planning applications to as-built drawings, black and white to full colour, A0 to A4, DWG to PDF, i:draw can produce all of them. No job is too small either, we can produce a one off A4 drawing right up to a full drawing package for an office fit-out.

So if you need i:draw's help then contact i:draw on any of the numbers or addresses below to discuss your requirements.

CAD Drawing Service:

i:draw can produce high quality and accurate CAD drawings for; Planning or Building Regulation applications, layout drawings for commercial or domestic clients, shop or retail outlet designs and plans, office layouts and space planning.

We can carry out a site survey, produce an accurate existing plan, then provide you with a full design service as well, or perhaps you are thinking about what potential your property may have, if so let i:draw provide you with some advice or provide concept or feasibility drawings.

Space Planning:

If you are looking for more space or moving to different premises, i:draw can space plan your office so you can get the maximum working space along with integrated storage and rest facilities.

Interior Design Drawings:

With a vast experience in the design office, we are able to turn Clients ideas and aspirations into fully workable and buildable designs, from Bathrooms to Kitchens, Boardrooms to Reception Areas, Department Stores to one off Shops we have experience in designing for all of them.

Technical CAD Drawings:

Having a background in the workshop and on site, we have an unrivaled technical and practical knowledge of how things should look and how things are put together.

Having worked as a Bench Joiner, Fitter, Draftsman and Contracts Manager, i:draw have an unparalleled insight into all the processes that go into producing accurate, practical and buildable drawings.

Site Surveys:

i:draw can carry out a full site survey and produce a full set of building plans showing all existing services including lighting, small power, air-conditioning, ceiling and floor grids and exterior elevations.

These can then be used as a basis for producing a concept or feasibility drawing or a full blown drawing package for a full office or building fit-out.

CAD Conversions:

If you need CAD versions of drawings you have, then send them to us and we can draw them up in Auto CAD and provide you with an accurate CAD copy for you to adapt as necessary, add your design or use for archive purposes. Again we can provide paper, DWG or PDF files.

We can take hand drawn sketches or designs that you have produced and turn them into professional accurate and high quality CAD versions for you to present to your clients or customers. These can be in full colour or just black and white.

We can turn your ideas and thoughts into easy to understand working drawings.

"Excellent drawings and great service once again, thanks Chris."

Neil Stantiall – Pario Consulting Ltd.

As Built Drawings:

i:draw can produce high quality 'As Fitted' or 'As Built' drawings for a number of disciplines; Electrical, Mechanical, Plumbing, Data installations and Alarm companies. We can either supply paper copies, DWG or PDF files.

Architectural Technician Services:

i:draw can work alongside Architects and Designers in the role of Architectural Technician producing full working drawings, Door Schedules, Ironmongery Schedules, Finishes Schedules and coordinating services, issuing drawing packages to contractors and sub contractors. We can also produce working drawings and details of specialist joinery or furniture items. Finally we can produce a full set of Operation and Maintenance Manuals or discs.

"Top class drawings and turned around in record time yet again!"

Richard Worrell – Visuali-s.

"Very happy thanks, you will get all my work in the future, definitely."

John Painter – Datalan Installations Ltd.

Operation and Maintenance Manuals:

There is a growing need to produce O&M Manuals for relatively small jobs; a task that can seem daunting when faced with a complicated Operation & Maintenance Manual specification and little time build a manual around it. Well, there is a cheap and efficient solution. We are used to quickly compiling O&M Manuals to meet your client's needs. This means that you can wash your hands of the whole process and know that we will produce professional O&M Manuals on your behalf that will reflect well on your company long after you've left site.

All i:draw need to produce your Operation and Maintenance Manuals is a list of suppliers and sub-contractors and materials used we can compile a full set of manuals in hard copy and electronic format.

"Thankyou Chris, These are some of the best drawings I have received."
